Personal Description

I truly believe that AI is an outstanding technology that can and must be used to help society progress. So that is what I set out to do: research and develop AI that can support people in having better online discussions. And I enjoy divulging it with videos for lay-people. Furthermore, as actor and former board member of an improvisational theatre association, I learned organizational and communication skills. Curiosity keeps me alive: learning something new brightens my days.
